A Mother's Greatest Strength

I Samuel 1:1-20

It is said that motherhood is rewarding, yet most mothers will tell you that each day brings new challenges.

It was no different in the life of Hannah.
She faced many difficulties in her life and yet she was able to overcome them.

Where did she find her strength?

What was her secret?

As we consider her example, a powerful principle appears, a principle that moms (and the rest of us too) would be wise to implement.

Following this principle will profoundly impact your life!

Here's the principle:

Pour out your heart to the Lord in prayer!

Take this principle and apply it to your life.

Pour out your heart to the Lord,
and wait patiently through prayer.

He can and will make all the difference in your life,
your family and your world!
